The image shows a screenshot of the Texas Criminal History Conviction Name Search Results page. The page features the Texas state seal on both sides of the header. The main title is "Criminal History Conviction Name Search" with "Search Results" below it. There are several input fields for search criteria, including "SEARCH BY", "SEARCHED FOR", and "SEARCHED ON". Below the search criteria, there is a section for "Viewing Results" with a checkbox for "Show me a preview of records when I open them." and a note about search results. The "Search Results" section shows "No search results found." and a "Databases Searched" section listing the following databases:

- CDH (Computerized Criminal Inquiry) (20160440)-A database of records reported by fingerprints.
- Computerized Criminal History (CCH) Specifications | Department of Public Safety (dps.texas.gov)
- CDH - Offense Codes | Department of Public Safety (dps.texas.gov)
- SOI (Sex Offender Registry) | The Public Sex Offender Registry

Not to mention even if it could be apostilled virtually no foreign country in the world is going to accept this as legitimate proof of having no criminal record or proof of getting a background check.

All foreign countries usually require an official state (Texas DPS issued) or federal (USDOS issued) criminal background check for passport, visa, marriage, living abroad, and school abroad purposes.

With that said if you make and get notarized by a Texas notary public a certified copy affidavit (example to use and download on our website) and attach your search results page to the affidavit. We have been told by a Texas Secretary of State employee that they will in fact issue an apostille certificate on the notarized affidavit that you make.
