

World Class Customer Support Via Loom Videos

We had a customer last night leave the comment below on a Loom video link we sent him after we shot a screen capture help video for him at 10:30 pm at night.

It explained in detail solutions to all the issues he was having (documents he submitted to the Texas Secretary of State directly got rejected already) and what he had to do so we could same day Texas apostille his documents for him.

Yep, we are giving world-class customer support to our potential customers at 10:30 pm at night while our competitors are sleeping or watching TV.

Apostille Texas is here 24/7 for our customers and potential customers that are located around the world.

P.S This potential customer was converted into a first-time customer of ours and he mailed his three documents to us today. We'll get his documents rush apostilled and mailed back to him tomorrow now.

Don't you just love happy apostille endings? ☐