

Can I order multiple apostille certificates for one document?

No, you can't.

Let's say you mail us one original or an official certified copy of a Texas birth certificate, Texas death certificate, and one properly notarized power of attorney to apostille and you want two apostille certificates for each document. A total of six apostille certifications.

The Texas Secretary of State will only issue one apostille certificate per document and for only one country that is presented to them.

Meaning one document = one country = one apostille certificate issued

So in this example, if you sent us three documents the most apostille certificates you could receive from the State of Texas or the U.S Department of State is three.

If you wanted six apostille certificates you would need to send us two certified copies of the birth and death certificates and then two notarized originals of the power of attorney document or a total of six original and/or certified copies of documents.
